Requisitions

Key Features

- Easy and Flexible
Create, edit, forward, suspend, cancel and approve requisitions through one flexible maintenance screen. Create one requisition for multiple vendors and automatically generate unique requisition numbers by location.
- Save Employees Time
Automate price suggestions based on historical Purchase Orders and Requisitions and create line items based on Dynamics SL Inventory.
- Provide Visibility
Utilize the Requisition Dashboard to search for and review requisitions based on many different criteria options across single, or multiple, company locations. Create user friendly, web-based reports driven from outside of the Microsoft Dynamics SL system.
- Stay Notified With Email Alerts
Keep employees informed of new submissions, multi level approval requests, and requisition status through automatic email notifications.
- Save Money and Minimize Costs
Allow multiple users Requisitions access without having to purchase a Dynamics SL user license, and while supplying them access to real time inventory, vendor and account information.

Requisitions For Microsoft Dynamics SL

NexTec Group's Requisitions module for Microsoft Dynamics SL allows employees to efficiently manage the requisitions process while saving time and minimizing costs.

As a vital part of your business, employees can now manage their requisitions process independently from your Microsoft Dynamics SL system, while accessing the necessary Microsoft Dynamics SL information to do so.

The Requisitions module offers user based security and provides multi level functionality to several requisition processes. This robust application allows employees to create, edit, approve, or reject requisitions for multiple locations and search for requisitions based on a variety of different criteria including requisition date, status, vendor, location, user, item, account category, and many more. The Requisitions module is a completely self contained application that has been tailored to provide access to real time, pertinent Microsoft Dynamics SL information, including account and sub-account details, active vendor information, and up to date inventory tables for item requests. This unique architecture allows your organization to maximize your Microsoft Dynamics SL licensing value while providing employees with the tools they need to process their requisitions.

This integrated module is easy to use and ensures your information is secure while working seamlessly along side your Microsoft Dynamics SL system. Contact us here at NexTec Group for additional information and to find out how Requisitions can benefit your organization!
