

NexTec Group Joins Advanced Processing & Imaging As a Value Added Reseller

*Advanced Processing & Imaging Welcomes NexTec Group
As an Authorized Platinum-Level Value Added Reseller*

Deerfield Beach, Florida – August 13, 2009 – Advanced Processing & Imaging (API), developers of innovative electronic document and content management solutions, announced today they are pleased to welcome NexTec Group as an authorized platinum-level value added reseller (VAR).

“NexTec Group offers best of breed solutions like: Sage MAS 500 ERP, Microsoft® Dynamics™ GP, Microsoft® Dynamics™ SL and Sage Abra HRMS,” said Eric Frank, President, NexTec Group. “It is important for us to also offer a proven and robust electronic content management system that seamlessly integrates with those solutions.”

Advanced Processing & Imaging Chief Sales Officer Steve Latos said, “Our VAR program consists of partners that have met our strict criteria. We are confident NexTec Group shares our knowledge, ethics, goals and vision in helping organizations attain the right paperless solution.”

An API VAR is able to offer their customers and prospects a proven enterprise content management solution that can streamline their business processes, increase efficiency and ensure regulatory compliance. Platinum-level VARs have benefited from API's in-depth training program and are authorized to sell and support API's robust solutions to their existing and new clients as an added-value complement to their own products and services.

API offers a portfolio of document management software solutions that are exceptionally simple to implement and intuitive to use. These solutions incorporate intelligent features to anticipate user needs, integrate with business applications and databases, and best of all, in many cases deliver a return on investment in less than a year.
