

NexTec Group Becomes the First National Partner to Meet Sage ERP X3's Mandated Partner Consulting Certification Requirements

NexTec Group First National Certified Sage ERP X3 Partner

Seattle, WA – August 29, 2011 – NexTec Group becomes the first national Sage ERP X3 Partner to meet the new Sage ERP X3 consulting certification requirements. As of July 2011, Sage made it mandatory for all US Partners to meet their consulting certification requirements for Sage ERP X3 to receive support from Sage and Sage ERP X3 customers. These certifications are part of the transition to serving their US customers with key strategic partners like NexTec Group.

The five core areas of Sage's ERP X3 consulting certification requirements NexTec Group met on a national level include financials, manufacturing, distribution, development and implementation. To achieve certification NexTec Group attended onsite training over several months of at Sage's facilities and passed exams in each functional area.

According to Russell Harper, Vice President, NexTec Group "the certification process was eye opening; Sage ERP X3 offers features well beyond the norm in our market. NexTec's team saw firsthand the power that is built into the product, and the flexibility it has to offer more. We are excited about delivering this new solution and its benefits to clients new and old."
